Election/Restrictions

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

1. This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, drawn to an optical sensor element wherein insulated electrodes are provided in grooves; claims 1-5 and 18 read on the embodiment of Group I.

Group II, drawn to an optical sensor element including a collection condenser for collection of charge carriers extracted from the doping zone; claim 6 and 7 read on the embodiment of Group II.

Group III, drawn to an optical sensor element wherein in place of insulated electrode, built up electrodes are provided to form Schottky barriers adjacent to the light sensitive area; claims 8-10 read on the embodiment of Group III.

Group IV, drawn to an optical sensor array wherein two sensor elements are provided on two sides of a common insulated electrode; claims 11-15 read on the embodiment of Group IV.

Group V, drawn to an optical sensor array wherein in between two adjacent insulated electrodes of two sensor elements, a zone is formed insulating the electrodes; claims 16-17 read on the embodiment of Group V.

Group I is generic to Groups II, IV and V.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I, II and III do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: Group I lacks the special technical features of Groups II-V, as underlined in the description above. Furthermore, the special technical feature of Group I, which is the insulated electrodes provided in grooves, is not novel over the prior art. Kimata (US 4,760,273) teaches in Fig. 5, an optical sensor element with insulated electrodes provided in grooves. Thus, the groups lack unity since the common technical feature does not define a contribution of the prior art.

3. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Abul Kalam whose telephone number is 571-272-8346.
